
References

Schroedinger-Poisson

C. R. Anderson. “Efficient solution of the Schroedinger–Poisson equations in layered semiconductor devices”, J. of Comp. Phys., 228, 4745-4756, (2009)

C. R. Anderson, T. C. Cecil, “A Fourier–Wachspress method for solving Helmholtz’s equation in three-dimensional layered domains”, J. of Comput. Phys., 205, 706-71, (2005)

C, R. Anderson and C. Elion, “Accelerated Solutions of Nonlinear Equations Using Stabilized Runge-Kutta Methods”, Technical Report, CAM 04-26* (2004), UCLA

C.R. Anderson, “A Rayleigh-Chebyshev procedure for finding the smallest eigenvalues and associated eigenvectors of large sparse Hermitian matrices”, J. Comput. Phys. 229, 7477-7487, (2010).

* <http://www.math.ucla.edu/applied/cam>

References

N-particle Schroedinger Equation

C.R. Anderson, “High order discretization techniques for real-space ab-initio simulations”, J. Chem. Physics, 148, 11411, (2018).

C.R. Anderson, “A Rayleigh-Chebyshev procedure for finding the smallest eigenvalues and associated eigenvectors of large sparse Hermitian matrices”, J. Comput. Phys. 229, 7477-7487, (2010).

C.R. Anderson, “A Recursive Expanding Domain Method for the Solution of Laplace’s Equation In Infinite Domains”, Technical Report CAM-14-45*, UCLA.

C. R. Anderson, “High order expanding domain methods for the solution of Poisson’s equation in infinite domains”, J. of Comput. Physics, 14, 194-205 (2016)

C.R. Anderson, “Compact Polynomial Mollifiers For Poisson’s Equation”, Technical Report CAM-14-43*, UCLA.

C.R. Anderson, “Smooth Hydrogenic Orbitals for Uniform Grid Computations”, Technical Report CAM-15-09* UCLA.

* <http://www.math.ucla.edu/applied/cam>